NEWSLETTER 7 Summer Term '19 Thursday 13th June 2019

Poetry at Mellers

Don't forget that on Thursday next week, June 20th, Dominic Berry, our regular visiting poet, is coming to see us again for the day. He is going to perform a whole book in assembly at 9.00am and we would really like parents to attend too. He will also be doing a book sale of his own books after school; all his books are £7.00 to buy. Please join us then if you can.

Word and Grammar of the Week

We thought we would share our word and grammar of the week with you, so that you can further help your children with their English skills:

Trips, Dinner money and Clubs

Please check your account balances on the school Gateway app, for any trips, dinner money or clubs. We are approaching the year-end and all balances must be cleared.

Please Drive Carefully Outside School

Yet again, a child was nearly hit by a car this week outside of school on Norton Street. I cannot stress enough to all parents and carers how important it is to park and drive responsibly outside school. For safety, reasons it is a 20mph speed limit area. In future, anyone seen to be driving or parking irresponsibly will be reported to the local Police.

Have a lovely weekend!

New TV Documentary

Elephant House Studios are looking for wonderful families for their new six-part series of 'Me and My Great Big Family'. In this heart-warming celebration of Britain's biggest families, they'll follow these households as they navigate the highs and lows of family life with nine, ten, eleven kids and maybe more! They'll enjoy gigantic family moments from christenings to birthdays, school proms, holidays and house moves capturing all the chaos and heart-warming moments that all come with being a supersize family. If anyone is interested in the program please let them know via email or phone:
