

We know that some of our pupils will need extra help after the COVID lockdown break, so we'll be giving them the support they need so that they don't fall behind any further.

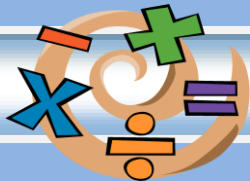

We're focusing on further developing pupils' oracy, writing, storytelling, spelling, and performing arts this year. This will involve work with other organisations, training for staff and fun activities for pupils!

We want to make sure everyone is happy and safe; our supervision system for teachers will be further developed, and our wellbeing teams and school council will carry on supporting staff and children.

We're welcoming our new deaf friends to Mellers. We want to make sure they're happy and safe in The Mellers Way!

What are we doing to improve our school this year?

Our excellent school governors will continue to make sure that everyone is striving to be 'the best that they can be' at Mellers through regular visits and checks. They'll meet regularly through the year to keep an eye on things at Mellers and support us all.

We want to make sure that we're all resilient and happy with a positive self-image; our whole community will be included in our PSHE and wellbeing work, which is so important all the time and even more so during and after the COVID uncertainty. There will be support for pupils, staff and parents, making sure that everyone's happy and safe.

On 1st November 1971, Mellers was first opened; on 1st November 2021 we'll start our year of 50th anniversary celebrations, with lots of special activities planned for the year!

We're focusing on making sure that teachers' assessment of the wider curriculum is really thorough. We love our floor books and want to make sure they're all top quality. We want our pupils to have excellent knowledge in all subjects so that they are well-equipped to get places at the best colleges and universities, and the best jobs available.

We want to make sure that all our children and families are safe, and that our safeguarding work is rigorous. Your happiness and safety are our main priorities.

It's really important that we carry on our work to make sure that everyone at Mellers loves reading, as this is the key to all knowledge. All the teachers and TAs have also had Letters and Sounds training and we'll be making sure we're all using our fabulous new library regularly!
